To export a number of records to an EndNote Desktop Library (.enl)

- Use the Pin icon on the record to select all records required.

- Click on the Pin icon at the top of the page

- Go to Saved Records

The screenshot shows the 'Saved Items' page with two tabs: 'SAVED RECORDS' (active) and 'SAVED SEARCHES'. A summary bar indicates '4 items'. The first item is a book titled 'Education, change and society' by Raewyn Connell (1944-2007), published in 2007. It is available at the Melbourne General Collection (371.2 208) and other locations. The second item is an article titled 'Greek undergraduate physical education students' basic computer skills. (PEDAGOGY)' by Adamakis, Manolis; Zounhia, Katerina.

- Select all items then go to ... and select "Push to" actions in the Saved Items area

This screenshot shows the 'Saved Items' page with 27 items selected, indicated by a checked checkbox and the text '27 items'. The 'Push to' actions menu is open, showing options for 'ADD LABELS', a trash icon, and a three-dot menu. The article 'Team dream / Beckman, John' is visible in the list.

- Select EXPORT RIS then DOWNLOAD

The screenshot shows the 'Push to' actions menu with four options: 'EXPORT RIS', 'ENDNOTE', 'PRINT', and 'E-MAIL'. The 'EXPORT RIS' option is highlighted in yellow. Below the menu, there is an 'Encoding' dropdown menu and a 'DOWNLOAD' button, which is also highlighted in yellow.
